

ACTOR HITCHCOCK NOT TO BE TRIED AGAIN

Bail Bond Discharged, as No Hope Remains of Conviction.

Preliminary steps for the ultimate dismissal of the four indictments standing against Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, were taken today before Judge Crain, in the Court of General Sessions. On motion of the District Attorney, who appeared in person, Judge Crain discharged the $7,500 bail bond which was furnished for Hitchcock by Martin Emmet Max Storer.
Hitchcock's counsel, will ask in a couple of weeks for the dismissal of the indictments, and his request will be granted.

Mr. Jerome, in asking that Hitchcock be released on his own recognizance, said his office could not take up the trial of the actor on the remaining indictments with any hope of conviction.
Flora Whiston was indicted for perjury, and is awaiting trial. Bail was furnished for her in the sum of $5,000.
Hitchcock was tried on a second indictment last May and acquitted. Since that time he has been on the road with a show.
